invisible home technology

Today's home is a place to come at peace yet it gets packed with more and more technology.

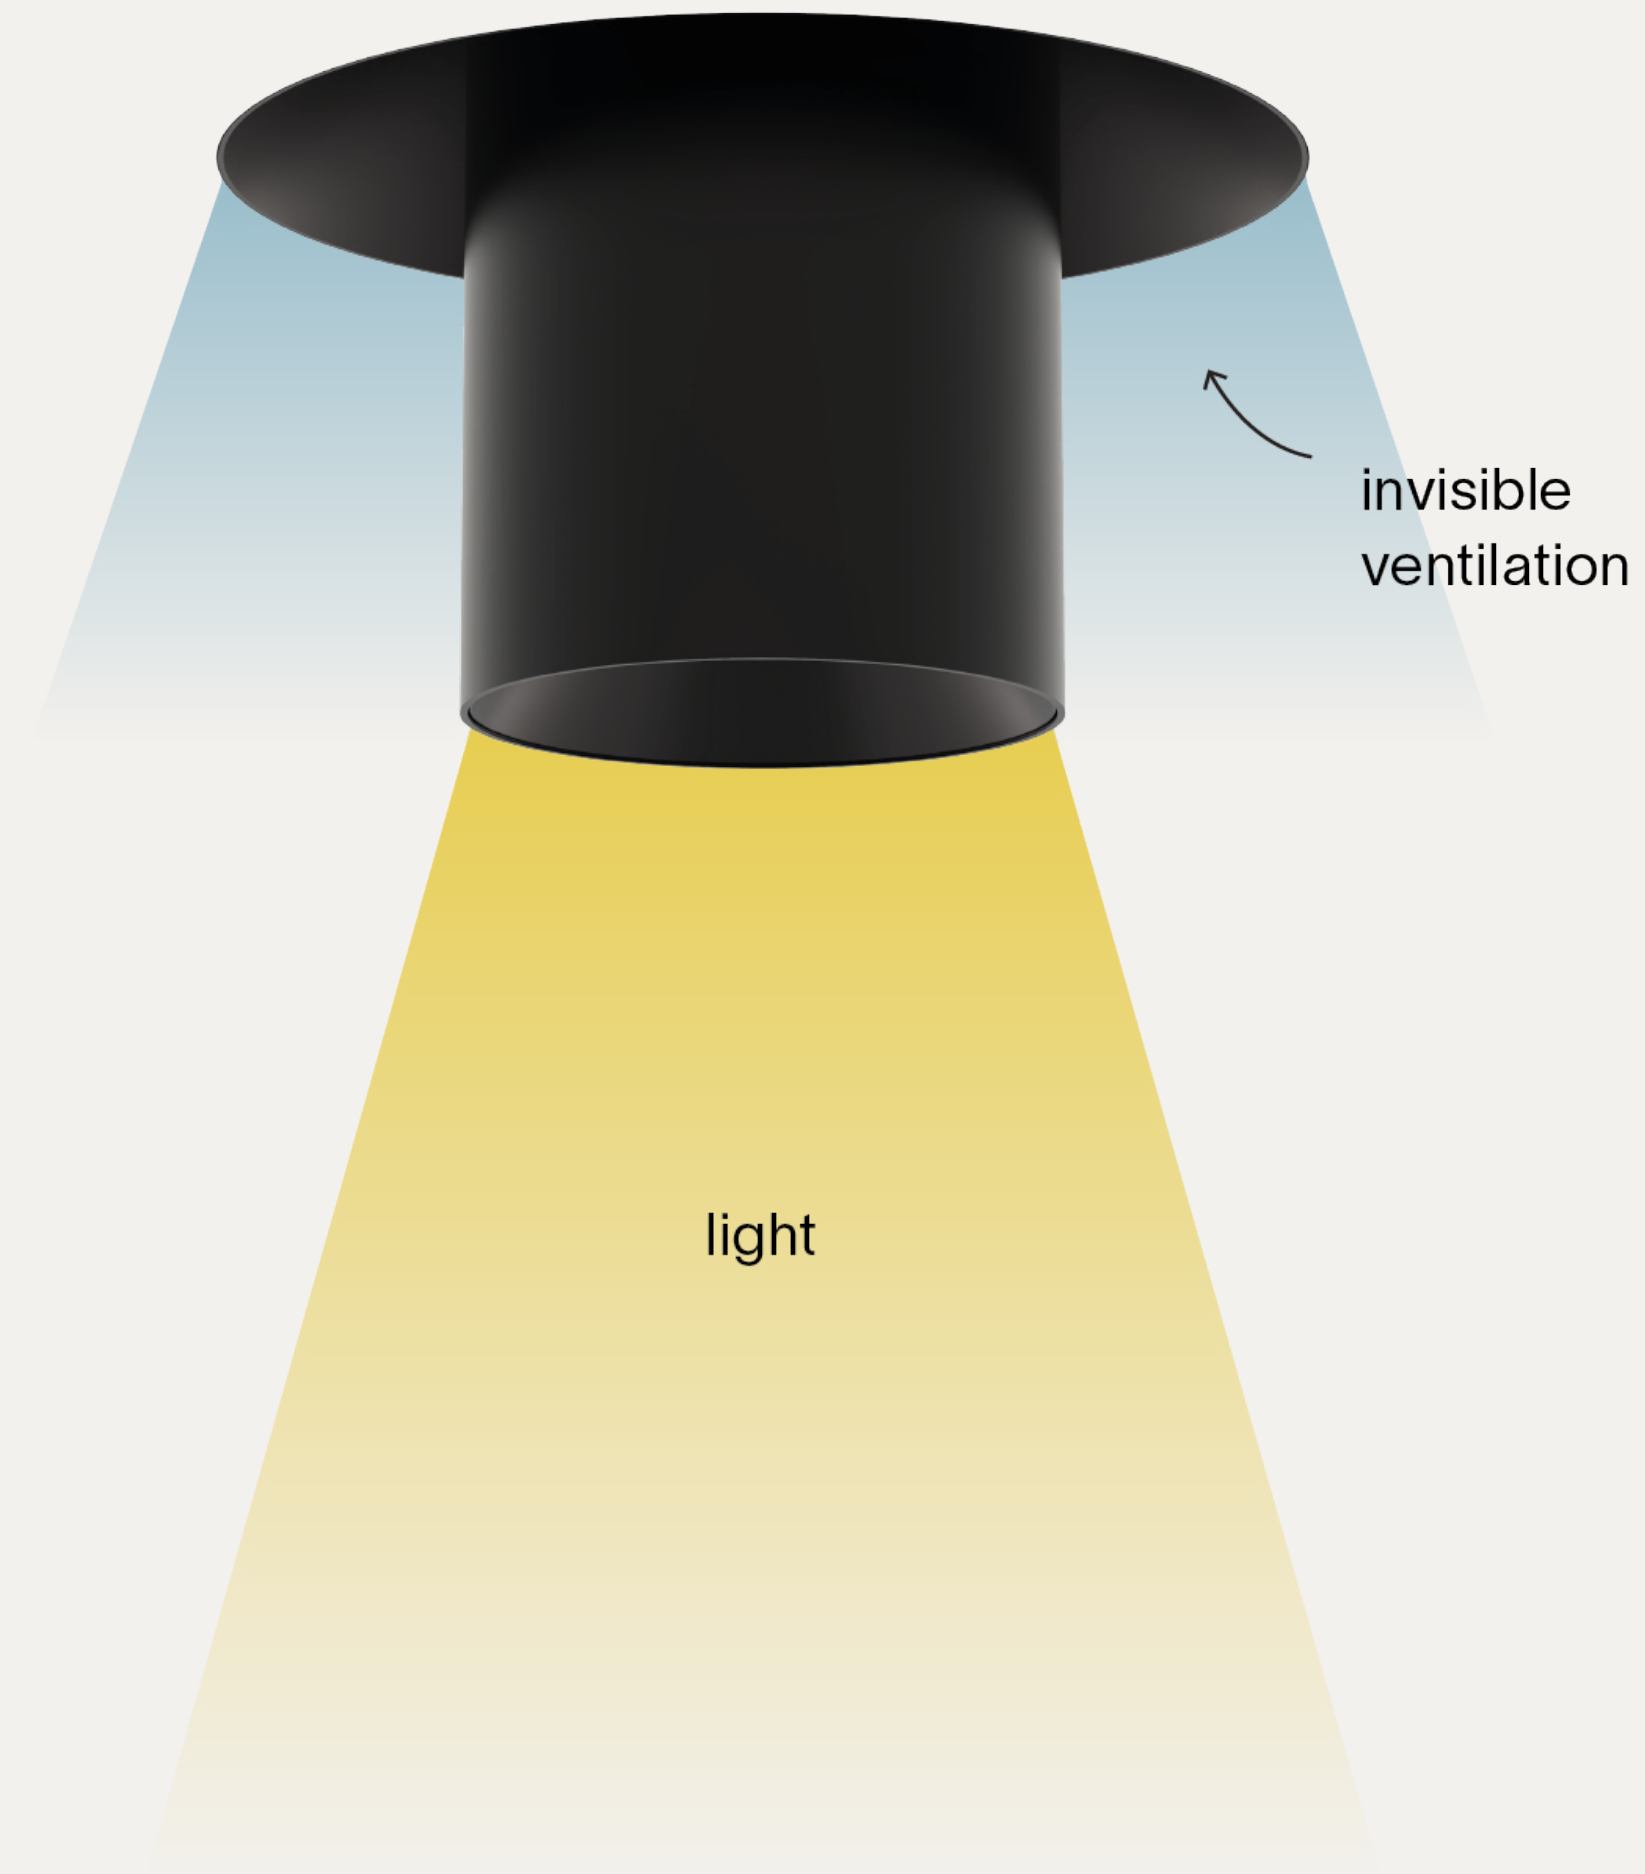

Our home technology highlights what matters most without being present. Thoughtfully integrated to create an aesthetic space, a seamless life and ultimately more calming homes.

“Every home needs ventilation
but nobody wants to see ventilation valves.”

Thibault Renson
founder

light + ventilation better together

Ever seen a good looking ventilation valve?
We haven't. And we wanted to change that.
Meet the first invisible ventilation valve.

light + motion better together

Lights up when you're there, shuts down when you're gone.
Works fully autonomous (48V) and delivers up to 800 lumen.
Say hello to the world's first invisible motion sensor.
